Each class list is prefaced by the number of alumni donors, percentage of class participation and amount of the overall class donation. Where only one class member participated, the specific gift amount is not disclosed. Numbers in parentheses denote the years of consecutive giving to Georgia Law.

During the past decade, Georgia Law advocacy teams have won 10 national titles and 33 state and regional crowns.

Only through consistent and generous alumni support can our law school reach its promising future. "My support reflects the appreciation I feel for what the law school gave me. I have been able to practice law, and to serve as a Superior Court Judge for many years. That our son, Mark, flourished in law school and went on to be a passionate and highly regarded advocate in the United States Air Force made my bond even greater. But when his law classmates chose to honor his memory by raising funds for the law school, my gratitude became overwhelming. The law school is a part of our family's history. It is a history that makes me very proud."

"Our law school prepared us for very diverse careers. My professional journey has included general counsel and in house corporate roles, public service with the City of Atlanta and a law firm. Some of my classmates are teachers, elected officials and executives with nonprofits - all providing tremendous contributions to their communities. We are given these opportunities because of the foundation we were provided at our law school. I make Georgia Law a priority in my giving simply because I am grateful.

Anne Dupre was an inspiration to the Class of 1988 through her tremendous intellect, warm and engaging nature and strong commitment to our law school and our profession. Through teaching, she continued to exhibit her passion for first class legal education at UGA and was beloved by her students. Unfortunately, students will no longer have the benefit of Anne as a professor, but we can continue her legacy. I am honored to support a scholarship in her memory so that her mission and commitment can live on."

"I have been blessed in many ways during my life. One of those blessings was to receive an excellent legal education from the UGA School of Law. The need for support has never been greater. I am thankful for the opportunity to help."

Matching Gift Donor

"Supporting the law school is encouraged by my employer which recognizes the value of a legal education through a matching gifts program. Such programs multiply the donations which are necessary from those of us that have benefited both in and outside the practice of law. For all this I am blessed and thankful."

"Not everyone says they 'enjoyed' law school, but both of us did. Of course there were the academics, but more than that, we made friendships and relationships that have endured and developed over time. Our professional and personal lives are fuller because of our law school experience. Now several decades out, we both continue to see bright, tenacious, well-trained and successful lawyers coming out of Georgia Law – as law clerks, associates, partners, public servants, and in business. We are grateful, and by donating we hope to contribute in a modest way to its continued success."

Cy Pres Funds

"As class counsel in a consumer finance case, we were delighted (along with Ben Philips and Charlie Gower) to recommend to Judge Clay D. Land (J.D.'85) that proceeds of the cy pres remainder fund be distributed to several worthy charitable organizations – including a scholarship fund at the University of Georgia School of Law. These funds will benefit law students as they prepare to represent clients that otherwise might not be able to afford legal counsel. We encourage our fellow Georgia Law alums to take every opportunity to help our law school."

"Being a recipient of this scholarship constitutes a substantial part of what makes it possible for me to attend law school. The fact that I am able to do so at such a high-caliber school as Georgia Law is an additional privilege for which I am most grateful. If I am able to serve my community with only a fraction of the character and effectiveness for which Anne Dupre is so well-remembered, then I will be a fortunate soul indeed."

"When considering where to attend law school, a respected lawyer from my hometown of Camilla, Georgia, told me that if I planned to practice law in Georgia, I should attend law school at the University of Georgia. His advice has only gotten better with time because I continue to be surprised by the opportunities the University of Georgia School of Law has provided to me. As a result, I feel it both a privilege and an obligation to make sure that other young lawyers have the same opportunities."

"As the leader of the law firm challenge team for Constangy, Brooks & Smith, I was immediately overwhelmed by the prompt and enthusiastic responses of our firm's alumni. The amazing group of Constangy attorneys answered the call for support quickly, generously, and truly rose to the challenge. On behalf of my colleagues at Constangy, we appreciate the opportunity to pay tribute to memories of our time at Georgia Law, and we are proud to help make such experiences possible for generations of new attorneys to come."

"The tremendous support I received from the faculty at Georgia Law is the primary reason I have achieved many of my goals. Our professors were understanding but demanding, which encouraged us to grow academically, professionally, and personally. This is especially true of Professor Anne Dupre, who pushed us to attain her 'unreachable' level. Professor Dupre's unwavering commitment to Georgia Law will be forever missed by her former students, and the scholarship fund dedicated to her memory will hopefully maintain the legacy of excellence she set as an example for us all."

Rishi P. Chhatwal (J.D.'11)

The Class of 2012 legacy gift of $89,412 was a record due to an anonymous donor providing a dollar for dollar matching gift.
