1	Super EASY class! There is no complete trial at the end. All you do is complete the assignment each week, so you will pick a jury, complete a opening, conduct a direct, conduct a cross, and make a closing argument! That's all! Professor Harper is really interesting and a good lawyer! It was a fun class!	Feb 12, 2012 5:50 PM
2	TAKE TRIAL PRACTICE WITH HARPER. He is the cutest, nicest old man, and the class is really worthwhile. You go through an entire trial, so you get practice giving opening arguments, direct and cross examining witnesses, giving closing arguments, etc. And none of it has to be perfect; he's really chill and nice and only cares that you put some effort into it at least. You also are rarely in class for the full 3 hours. He also tells really adorable stories about his grandkids.	Feb 6, 2012 6:21 PM
3	Trial Practice is a solid, laid back class. It's a good course to take if you want to practice your public speaking (you'll have to prepare something for your role for each class) and get a better idea about how trials work. Harper makes it pretty entertaining, too.	Feb 6, 2012 4:03 PM
4	Interesting class, Prof. Harper has a lot of knowledge about this subject and a lot of experience and usually tells a story each class about his practice or a topic like the rules of evidence. He is really relaxed, gives mainly positive feedback, and there is no pressure. The class has a very cooperative feel to it, as in, lets all get better together, rather than a competitive atmosphere like I heard of in some other Trial Practice classes.	Feb 6, 2012 10:16 AM
